Vivid Story Of London Air Raid Told By Eye Witness of Hun Outrages

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

"The Leader is proud to be able to give its readers this week a little first hand information about the recent air raids on London by the German Zeppelins. We received this information direct from an eye witness so that it may be relied upon as being true. The parts of the city attacked are withheld in keeping with the very strict rules laid down by the chief censor of Canada.

Our correspondent says in part:

"We have had several more visits from our friends the Germans (I think I don't think) and on they nearly bombed us. They got as near as ten minutes walk from us and dropped bombs on 3 hospitals for children, also other large buildings, setting them on fire. At ——— there is hardly a sound these left. Several lives were lost here. And at ——— there isn't a window in the buildings left, not to mention a hospital which was badly damaged."

Of the raid proper our correspondent gives the following vivid description:

Well we were all going to bed, when all of a sudden we heard a terrible report of guns. It absolutely shook the whole of London. Then the police rushed through the streets, shouting to the people to put their lights out, and keep in their houses. I can tell you it nearly frightened the life out of us. But of course, "nosey" as usual, we looked out of the front door and there right in front of our house was the zepp. The searchlights had found it, and it looked like a silver cigar in the sky, the big anti-aircraft guns were firing at it, and it was a great sight. Can you picture a lovely sky, all studded with stars, and in the distance the reflection of burning buildings, and this great silver cigar, flying away from it with shrapnel from the guns, burst ing all around it, we saw it hit twice, and it was brought down, but we have not heard much about it since. Well they have visited us every night since and we are not able to go to bed before about 12-30, to 1 o'clock in fact it was two o'clock on Saturday before we were able to go. You see they fly so high that our airships can't find them very quickly.

I wonder if the Kaiser is proud of murdering sick children. I shall never forget the sight I saw, or the damage those cursed things have done to our beautiful city.

Narrow Escape

William Palmer and a little grand-daughter were victims of an accident that might have terminated disastrously, but happily by a near miracle there was no serious results. It seems that the horse he was driving became frightened by the "stomach" house, allowing the occupants of the rig over the turnpike constructed by Mr. Ray Knight, and completely demolishing the vehicle. Witnesses of the accident declare that they fully expected serious injuries would be inflicted both to the old gentleman and the little child.

Raymond Now On Theatrical Circuit

Manager King of the Opera House is negotiating for the appearance here of the dramatized version of Harold Bell Wright's famous novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills," that beautiful story which has thrilled millions. Mr. King has been successful in placing this city on the Western Canada circuit, and Raymond will see this winter some of the most powerful dramas played by metropolitan casts that are touring the country. Mr. King is working for the best in opera and drama, and we sincerely hope the public will stand behind him.

King Brothers' Heavy Grop

King Brothers report an exceptionally heavy yield of wheat on the farm west of town. They threshed fifty-eight bushels to the acre, and a sample submitted to the government grade experts at Calgary went No. 1, with a very high recommendation. A well known grain man who was in the commissioner's office when the sample came in, has written King brothers offering them a fancy price for all they have.

Tonight in the Opera House a grand farewell party will be given for Miss Ericson to which all are invited.

Obituary

Mrs. Clarke, of Stirling, died Monday after a lingering illness during which she was an intense sufferer. The funeral services were held Tuesday in the L. D. S. chapel, Stirling, Bishop Fawcett officiating. The service was most impressive and the large congregation testified to the true character of the deceased. Mrs. Clarke was the mother of the well-known Clarke family, of our neighboring town, and was well and favorably known in the south country. She leaves a husband and large family to mourn her loss.

Miss Ericson Honored

Miss Ina Ericson, who leaves shortly for Denver, Colo., was the honor guest at a number of delightful affairs during the past week. Monday evening about twenty of her girl friends surprised her at her home and the following evening the M. I. A. stake officers gave a most pleasant social in her honor at the home of Miss Laura Redd, on Church street.

Conjoint M.I.A.

Last Sunday evening two interesting conjoint programs were given by the M. I. A. at the two local wards. In the first ward the service took the form of "An Evening with Scotland," and proved highly entertaining and educational. The following program was rendered:

Address, "Scotland and Her People," by John Blackmore B.A. Solo, "Bonnie Sweet Bessie," by Miss Fern Redd. Paper, "The Literature of Scotland," by Miss Jesse Stenhouse. B. A.

Baritone solo, "Annie Laurie," Mr. Lynn Gibb. Piano solo, "The Blue Bells of Scotland," by Mr. N. L. Mitchell. Short farewell talk, Miss Ericson.

At the second ward the following program was rendered: Address, "The Gospel in the Light of Science," by Devote Woolf.

Piano Duett, Misses Lucille Allen and Lucille Kinsey. Talk, Bishop Evans. Cornet solo, Mr. Coombs. Retold story, Paul Dahl.

Mr. Riley, of the Merchants' Bank, left Tuesday for Lethbridge where he will be employed. Mr. Anthony, who has been teller at the bank since its opening in 1913 has also been transferred to Lethbridge. Manager Prest expects to be here for another month winding up the business of the institution.

Wednesday the Japanese boys celebrated the coronation of the Emperor, who was crowned at Kioto, Japan, in the midst of traditional pomp and ceremony on that day. The local festivities were held at the sugar company's boarding house at the factory.

Opening Dance of the K. A. given by the Student Body Nov. 10th. Refreshments will be served Everybody Come.

Persistent rumors are current that another bank will shortly locate at Raymond.

Town Council

The city council held a short and uneventful meeting Wednesday with Acting Mayor Dahl in the chair. Mayor O'Brien being absent on a business trip to Winnipeg.

The secretary was empowered to transfer the account of the Town of Raymond from the Merchants' Bank to the Bank of Montreal, in view of the former bank's intention of closing down their branch here.

The municipal team was laid off for the winter.

Supt. Powell was authorized to secure a reel for the 400 feet of hose, and Secretary Kimball was instructed to collect for the new equipment on the basis of frontage on Broadway and the amount of business tax paid.

A by-law was passed appointing S. Parham Kimball returning officer for the forthcoming civic elections.

After discussing a batch of miscellaneous business the council adjourned for one month.

The commercial and missionary classes opened at the Knight Academy last week under the direct supervision of Pres. Romney and Instructor O. F. Ursenbach respectively. Prospects are bright for two good classes this year, and no doubt the divine and ledger heads will be heard from in class activities, too.

Mrs. Way is visiting relatives in Calgary this week.

Raymond Japs Lead Eastern "Spud" Market

Mayor O'Brien returned last week from a business trip to Winnipeg, and to The Leader he reported the same highly successful. Mr. O'Brien is handling the potatoes and cabbage grown by the local Japanese colony, and is responsible for the sale of over $10,000 worth of produce this fall.

Speaking of the Winnipeg market Mr. O'Brien said: "The Alberta potato has established a fine reputation in the east, and commands a price $3 per ton above the Manitoba product, and is also bought in preference to the B. C. grown potato. There is a good, steady market and the price is very fair. The C. P. R. has purchased two cars of Raymond potatoes for their dining car service and this is just a beginning."

Threshing is practically all done in Manitoba and eastern Saskatchewan, said the mayor, and farmers are busy ploughing.

A Red Cross Dance will be given in the Opera House on November 20th. Refreshments will be served. The patronage of all is solicited for this worthy cause. Tickets will be on sale.

Pool Men Rejoice Over The Decision

Local pool hall operators are delighted at the decision recently handed down by the supreme court en banc at Calgary in which the court determined that the imposition of a municipal license was illegal in face of the license imposed by provincial statute. When seen Mayor Ririe and Secretary Hooges both freely confessed that it was a bad blow to the towns, but they were confident that the legislature would soon amend the present law which was certainly unjust to the towns, according to these gentlemen.

The numerous Magrath friends will be pleased to hear that Mrs. MacIntyre, wife of William H. MacIntyre Sr., the well-known cattle baron, of Southern Alberta is visiting at the ranch in company with several other Salt Lake ladies.

Principal Outland was in Stirling this week attending the funeral of his mother, who died Wednesday at the family residence.

Smash Go The Wheat Records 78 - bus. Latest

The people of Alberta are becoming familiar with enormous yields and receive the big records in a sort of matter of fact way. But the yield reported by Fred Blumel will undoubtedly make the public sit up and take notice.

Mr. Blumel claims to hold the record for wheat yield in Western Canada. From a ten acre field he threshed on an average 78 bushels to the acre all No. 1 wheat.

When The Leader man heard this staggering figure he was almost knocked off his feet, but facts are stubborn things and Blumel has the cold figures to back up his claims.

Mrs. Ingles, wife of Rev. Mr. Ingles, arrived this week from Scotland.

Miss Lyle Shelton has accepted a position in the Magrath Pharmacy.

Wood Brothers have some fine specimens of wild fowl stuffed by a Brandon taxidermist. The collection, which includes beautiful eagle, was collected by Ang Wood.

C. R. Searle probably holds the record for sales of threshing outfit this season in Southern Alberta. He has disposed of eleven out fits new and second hand.

Ladies' Aid Social Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday evening the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid will give their annual chicken supper in the church, and a splendid time is anticipated. The supper will be served from 6 o'clock to about 8 o'clock when an attractive program will be given. The price of supper will be adults 50 cents and children 25 cents, program free.

The Ladies' Aid are very anxious to make the affair a success this year as it has been in other years, and the public is urged to give them liberal support.

The Weekly Leader,
Raymond, Alberta,
Gentlemen,

We are pleased to see our advertising campaign in your paper at the commencement of the marketing season was highly gratifying. The results were entirely satisfactory.

We might also add that our half page advt. was displayed in our office windows at Calgary, Winnipeg and Ft. William. At the latter city the government warehouse commissioner said that it was one of the best written and arranged grain ads. he had ever seen.

Yours truly,

Constantinople Besieged Often Last Twenty Centuries

There is a legend told of the tower which prophesies that when the tower falls so will Constantinople. 5—Mausoleum of St. Sophia, Constantinople. 6—A street vendor, Constantinople.

All eyes are watching Constantinople and the allied attack on the Turkish city. Military experts both in this country and Europe agree that the British and French forces, aided by their Italian allies, will score one of the most decisive victories of the war at this point and thereby be placed in a position to give more aid to Russia by keeping the huge armies of the east adequately supplied with ammunition and also providing an outlet for the enormous Russian grain, now in such great demand all over the continent of Europe.

Constantinople—birds herself more seriously menaced than in all her 4,000 years of Turkish rule. Not that she has not been besieged and threatened during that time, for indeed besieged Constantinople either on the field of battle or in the suburbs precincts of diplomacy has always been the sport of sieges.

More than once in the last century the Bulgarians were practically in sight of the city, and in the Balkan war the residents of the city passed in the course of their daily excursions to the rear of the enemy guns in the distance. But always before something had happened to save Constantinople.

First Recorded Siege.
The first recorded siege in the long list of the city has undergone was about 170 A. D., when Septimius Severus, connected with Paganism, eager for his position as Roman emperor in the east. The fortifications of Byzantium were famous throughout the world, all the while before the city was taken down were at her command, and her navy, manned by skillful, brave seamen, was feared by every other country. For three years she sustained the siege and only when the ravages of famine became so horrible that the weaker became food for the stronger did she finally yield to her Roman captors. From then until her capture by Constantine in 324 A. D. the city was without a strong government and suffered frequent sackings.

The first attack of the Byzantine about 72, brought with it a new and terrible means of defense, Greek fire, the most destructive agent then known to man. It could be projected on objects either near at hand or at a distance and would burn on water or on stone as readily as on substances that could be themselves ignited.

This was the first great siege of the Middle Ages. The second came about a hundred years later. Eighteen ships, mostly manned by Christian slaves, were sent out to prevent aid from reaching Constantinople, while 130,000 foot soldiers besieged the walls. The siege lasted eighty months. Only three of the 1300 ships returned to Syria, and only the barest remnant of the fleet, army ever reached Damascus. As the centuries went on Constantinople grew slowly weaker, though the authentic accounts of its riches during the tenth, eleventh and twelfth centuries sound like the tales of a magician. Its customs revenues alone amounted to 30,000 pieces of gold daily and in spite of the great cost of keeping the armies on a constant war footing of building splendid public edifices of supporting a luxurious court and a magnificent church, the sovereigns accumulated vast personal wealth which was estimated in tons of pure gold.

The connection of Constantinople with the fourth crusade was one of the romantic incidents in its history. The crusaders were called on to assist a pretense and retrieve the reputation of the throne. Aided by the Venetians they at once set about the siege of Constantinople. In the spring of 1203, 44 vessels carrying 60,000 soldiers sailed up the sea of Marmara to the very walls of the city.

The capture of Constantinople by the Turks was not a sudden thing. The Turks were established in Europe with a capital at Adrianople before they ever laid siege to the greater city. In 1453 the Christian emperor made terms with the Moslem ruler by giving his daughter in marriage to Orchan, son of Orchan, the founder of the ruling dynasty. A condition of this bargain provided the first Moslem entrance in the Christian city, while Orchan sold the Christian prisoners in the market place of Constantinople. Men, women and children of all castes were exposed naked and sold into a terrible bondage. This is the last time that the city was ever actually captured by an invading host. Constantinople has been often besieged since then, though after the medieval fashion, but it has never since fallen.

How Turkey Took City.
The circumstances of the capture of the city by the Turks have never been forgotten or forgiven by the Christian people of southeastern Europe. The people had promised the soldiers that when they entered the city he would reserve for himself only the walls and the public buildings. Everything else, people and treasure, was to be theirs. Waiting for them in and about the church of St. Sophia, 20,000 of a multitude of Christians, of men, women, waiting with sublime faith the miracle that would deliver them from the Moslems.

More than once during this time was Constantinople threatened by force; more than once was the Dardanelles passed by unfriendly warships, but not a single time did the city actually sustain other than a diplomatic siege. In 1807 an English fleet under Admiral Duckworth entered the Dardanelles and appeared before Constantinople, but the Turks entreated the admiral in diplomatic negotiations, at the same time hurriedly strengthening their fortifications until he was obliged to retreat beyond the Dardanelles, and Constantinople was saved.

In 1229 Calixtus II, pope of Rome, threatened by Russian land forces, but not until 1878 did Russia actually ap-proven the goal of her ambition. Not until her soldiers were actually in sight of Constantinople did the sultan accept her proffered terms of peace.

From 1878 until 1913 Constantinople was not inhabited by an enemy, due in the fall of 1913 the British allies, after a series of amazing and dramatic victories, swept over the plains of Thrace and attacked the defenses of Constantinople, practically the last defense of the city. What the disorganized Turkish armies would have done alone cannot be guessed, but they had their old city, diplomacy on their side, as well as the dark choices which attacked the Bulgarians and Turkish allies.

Pink and Blue

I KNOW a lovely old-fashioned bedroom which is a joy to behold. The woodwork is white. The paper is old blue with a small pink-and-white conventional figure—very small and very conventional. The window curtains are pink and white striped, and looking down, I admit, and the blue curtains look like a better value and more comfortable. The bed is a white bed frame. There is also a white bed frame. There is also a white bed frame.

More than once during this time was Constantinople threatened by force; more than once was the Dardanelles passed by unfriendly warships, but not a single time did the city actually sustain other than a diplomatic siege. In 1807 an English fleet under Admiral Duckworth entered the Dardanelles and appeared before Constantinople, but the Turks entreated the admiral in diplomatic negotiations, at the same time hurriedly strengthening their fortifications until he was obliged to retreat beyond the Dardanelles, and Constantinople was saved.

PROMINENT AND CULTURED MEXICO ADRIPT ON A SEA OF REVOLUTION

FREQUENT clashes which have recently occurred on the Mexican border indicate that big things are soon to happen in our troublesome neighbor. It is admitted on all sides that the acute diplomatic situation with European powers has delayed the action necessary to restore order.

An insight into the actual conditions existing in Mexico is interesting now. Cultured Mexico is adrift on the world's sea. No longer have the seats at the marble topped tables outside the fashionable Champs-Élysées in Mexico City educated and refined occupants. Zeonists and his band of savages have driven the last native Mexican of breeding out of Mexico City. Those not elected by Spain were buried forth by Carranza, including the Brazilian and Guatemalan ambassadors.

Instead of being in Mexico, these polished dons are now scattered everywhere, many impoverished, a few in comfortable circumstances. Let us glance over a few of these distinguished exiles.

In Spain we find Diego Redo, Florentin Noriega and Luis H. Creel at Madrid; Guernacido Enriquez and Indalecio Sanchez Gaviti, the lawyer, at Barcelona; Adolfo de la Lanza, Jose Sanchez Ramos and General Manuel Mondragón at San Sebastian.

In Paris are living J. Y. Limantour, the wizard of financial affairs; E. de la capitalist; De Xayas Enriquez, the writer; Aurelio Canales, Luis Torral, Francisco J. de la Barra, Guillermo Obregon, Jr., General Fernando Gomez, Rector Corona and Carlos de la Barra.

"Ready Money"

"A Gentleman of Leisure," a Lasky production with William Bingham in the title role, delighted the local public in two performances at the Rex Monday and Tuesday. This was the first paramount picture in a most brilliant series, the second being billed for the opening two nights of next week, Edward Ables in that tense drama of love and gold, "Ready Money." The Rex should be packed for this great feature.

Civic Elections

With three aldermen to be elected, the terms of Arthur Dahl, George Court, and J. S. Fisher having expired, and election day barely a month off, little interest is manifest in municipal politics. It is possible that one or two and perhaps all of these gentlemen will be candidates again, but they have not as yet publicly announced themselves.

The mayor and council will give an account of their stewardship Monday evening, November 29th at the annual meeting. Nominations and elections will follow early in December, dates to be set by the Council.

Let us Raise Your Salary

The difference between $7.50 and $25.00; $3.00 and $30.00; $10.00 and $40.00; and so on up the line is the proven difference between the salaries of men before and after receiving I. C. S. training.

It's a fact. The International Correspondence Schools have thousands of unsolicited letters telling of exactly such increases in salary as a direct result of this training. Every month there is an average of 300 men who voluntarily report success attained through I. C. S. training.

Wouldn't you like your salary raised? Wouldn't you like a more congenial position? Wouldn't you like to be successful? Then mark the coupon today.

There's always a good paying position for the trained man. You know that.

Then why not let the I. C. S. help you? It doesn't matter where you live, what you do for a living, or how little schooling you may have had. If you can read and write, the I. C. S. has a way to help you to success—in your own home—in your spare time—without requiring you to give up your present position.

The I. C. S. method will quickly enable you to earn a much higher salary at the occupation of your choice—just as it has already enabled thousands of other poorly paid but ambitious men to succeed.

Mail the coupon today—the I. C. S. will gladly explain it all without charging you a penny.
